

Global Conference on LANGUAGE and INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY – GLIT2014
9–10 Jne 2014, Kota Kinabalu, Malaysia

GLIT2014: Synergizing Meaningful Education (GLIT 2014) highlights current interdisciplinary enquiry and explorations on research and practice in various aspects of Language Practice and Information Technology.

We would like to invite fellow academicians/researchers to this global conference on Language and Information Technology: Synergizing Meaningful Education (GLIT 2014). It highlights current interdisciplinary enquiry and explorations on research and practice in various aspects of language and information technology. Significant issues in synergizing language and information technology in various disciplines will be the focus of the conference. The conference aims to be a platform for interaction, exploration, examination, and comprehension of issues related to innovative knowledge. It will be a specific gathering of experts, practitioners, researchers, writers and graduate students engaged in research in all aspects of integrated knowledge of language and information technology.

GLIT 2014 welcomes all, to be informed by experts, and thus to sharpen the understanding on knowledge in education needs. Through the sharing of research findings and best examples of practice GLIT 2014 will contribute to all levels of education settings globally.
