Since the first edition in 2016, APEF conferences have grown to become the must–attend experiences for Economics and Finance academics and professionals. The conferences provide real education and networking opportunities, while maintaining a close–knit, intimate environment that attendees prefer. APEF conferences are popular for their selection of breakout sessions tackling the most important issues facing the Economics and Finance community, presented by carefully selected subject matter experts with experience in those topics. Presentations ranging from academic researches to real–world case studies will keep you engaged and engrossed.

We welcome all papers on the topic of Economics and Finance to be presented at APEF 2019.
Submit an abstract and make a presentation at our annual conference now.
